

"Welcome to Emilia. Holiday in an Organic Farm" is an association of organic farms in Emilia Romagna region (Italy). They intend to apply to the next call of the EU grant "Promotion of trans-national thematic tourism products in the EU as means of sustainable tourism development" or some other calls related to the tourism sector.

"Welcome to Emilia. Holiday in an Organic Farm" is an association consisting of 14 structures that links a certified organic agricultural production to a sustainable tourism accommodation. In other words, they try to respect the environment both in agriculture and tourism and they also manage to establish accommodation requirements inspired by the rural community values.

They are looking for partners with a similar approach to agriculture and tourism accommodation, in order to promote the values and the opportunities that these activities offer the guest.
