Invitation to...

Meet me today, for tomorrow International youth conference

Europe Direct Maribor would like to invite you to participate in the international youth conference Meet me today, for tomorrow. The conference will bring together young people to educate them on active ageing, so they will better understand it, better live with it and make a positive contribution to society. We believe that only an educated youth can change the world for the better.

Frame of reference

As an Information Centre of the European Commission, we try to bring the European Union closer to the local community. The EU is based on multicultural cooperation and diversity and our conference incorporates just that. It is a way to bring together youth from different EU Member States, thus giving the participants a diverse playground of ideas and viewpoints.

This will be our fifth conference, following Meet me in Diversity in 2008, Meet me in Creativity in 2009, Meet me in Solidarity in 2010 and Meet me, to involve me in 2011, dedicated to the theme of the European year.

European Year for Active Ageing and Solidarity between Generations

Active ageing means growing old in good health and as a full member of society, feeling more fulfilled in our jobs, more independent in our daily lives and more involved as citizens. No matter how old we are, we play our part in society and can enjoy a better quality of life. The challenge is to make the most of the enormous potential that we harbour in every period of our lives.

Participants

- > are from 18 to 27 years of age,
- > are citizens of EU Member States and Candidate or Potential Candidate Countries
- > participants will be invited on the basis of motivation letters

We will invite from 20 to 30 participants, under our discretion.

Registration deadline

If you like to meet new people, like to share your ideas and would like to learn something new, send us your motivation letter to the following e-mail address europedirect@zavodpip.si till the 23rd September 2012.
