

Europe Direct Campania is pleased to announce that its host institution, the Science and Technology Park of Salerno and Inland Areas of Campania is interested in taking part as a partner in proposals to be presented on the current call of Life plus Programme, whose deadline to send proposals is 25/06/2013.

The Science Park has already participated as a partner in the project RE-WASTE Recovery, recycling, resource. Valorisation of olive mill effluents by recovering high added value bio-products financed by Life plus Programme - Environment Policy and Governance 2007. In this project Science Park coordinated the dissemination and awareness raising actions, addressed to Italian and European operators, aiming at promoting an innovative and clean technology for the utilization of olive mill wastes. The RE-WASTE project aimed at diffusing the consciousness that it is possible to convert a polluting residue into a valuable source of energy and of molecules with biological activities, by means of an economically and environmentally sustainable process.
